

Project Engineer

Company

Our company client is committed to the transformation of nuclear materials in the field of energy to support social development. They specialize in the recycling of nuclear materials, providing products, services and technology to international customers .

Responsibility

The goal is to become a key member of project management (PM) team.

The commencement of the mission will be the immediate support to a very large project's negotiation on the critical phase. The necessary on-job training will be accompanied and organized to obtain better understanding of the Project during an integration period.

At the same time, participation or involvement in other fuel cycle back-end projects.

- Facilitate project preparation:
 - o Understanding of the project background in reading related documents
 - o Active exchanges with the manager and other colleagues of the team
 - o Training in France within project team and/or reference facility
 - o Value proposition to the good running of the negotiation
- Participate negotiation
 - o Able to translate in both way in French and in Chinese
 - o Helping the right comprehension of French colleagues on messages delivered by Chinese customers and explaining in a professional way the messages of French colleagues to Chinese customers.
- Assume a key responsibility in the Project management team in China as soon as the negotiation is finalized and the contract is signed.
- Take other missions in the field of the competencies.

☐The working place could be changed into a coastal city in China, according to the requirement of the project

Requirement

- Bachelor Degree or above Engineering degree (nuclear or chemical or other domain) or equivalent
- Chinese as native language;Fluent in French ;Good ability to read and speak English
- 5 years in an international environment managing and/or participating in project
- Good inter-personal relationship capability
- Able to build up the confidence of Chinese and French participants
- Reliability in terms of attendance to negotiation rounds, punctuality, concentration
- Meticulousness in project management

Please send your resume to: zhao.lys@ccifc.org